Rudolf Steiner's Calendar of the Soul Verse 12 Summer Solstice St. John's Tide

Eloise Krivosheia

"Life Spirit" Verse 12 relates to Condition 6, "Feel gratitude for everything that falls to your lot." Calendar Verses 5-20 have a correlation with the events in Luke 1:28-79. In Luke 1:38, we find "And Mary said, 'Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word."

Here we see Mary is immediately willing to do God's work. She can release her "godly gifts", (Götterkräfte) the will forces of her astral and ego, to cosmic union —even as in Verse 12, the I in the consciousness soul feels its desire to do the same. The Self trusts that "I can seek myself in cosmic light and warmth," in the Son and the Father, and know that I will find my physical self waiting my safe return below —for Christ has since Golgotha been united with Earth. The I continues:

Gazing into the Earth's beauty releases will forces in me that enable me to feel a part of the cosmos, part of its beauty and harmonious order. (Greek meaning of Kosmos is order and harmony.) I long to breathe in, to absorb this beauty. And I feel I'm not alone—I'm part of this beauty.

My gratitude for the Earth's blossoming beauty and its high, golden blue sunlit skies fills my soul and I want to lose all that is small in me and soar into the beauty of the cosmos. I feel it as a holy experience. I feel the world's light and warmth in my own soul, and filled with love I tell myself that God who created all this beauty and life, created me, too, and is within me as my true I.

Der Welten Schönheitsglanz,
Er zwinget mich aus Seelentiefen
Des Eigenlebens Götterkräfte
Zum Weltenfluge zu entbinden;
Mich selber zu verlassen,
Vertrauend nur mich suchend
In Weltenlicht und Weltenwärme original German by Rudolf Steiner.

David Newbatt

The beauteous lustre of the world

Compels me from the depth of soul

That I release to cosmic flight

The godly force of my own life:

To leave myself below,

And trusting, seek myself

In cosmic light and cosmic warmth.

tr. by Daisy Aldan...

Yongsung Kim

The splendor of Nature's beauty
Lures me out of my soul depths
To liberate for cosmic flight
The divine forces of my own existence.
To abandon myself, yet trusting
And seeking myself alone
In cosmic light, and cosmic warmth.

tr. by Tom Mellett.

David Newbatt

The 'godly' forces in me, the spirit, is what sees the beauty of the world for what it is in truth; and this spirit in me consciously connects me to the gods. I shall trustingly seek myself in cosmic light, —in the Christ forces of light, life, love and wisdom, and in cosmic warmth, the Father will forces.

This verse highlights our wish to do consciously what at night and in the season of summer our astral body and ego mostly do unconsciously. Gradually we can become more conscious of this flight as we realize we are truly a being of the universe.

With our sensings, feelings and thoughts we experience the earth's beauteous out breathing, now at its fullest. We notice and may wish to practice how like our breathing the lines of the verse are, as they weave the soul's feelings in and out. Balance is established for us as our spirit breathes in the beauty of the world, then out, then in again connecting us with the gods. Balance makes offering and trust possible. Feelings of gratitude for all that we are and all that comes to us enables us to love all these gifts.

We notice, too, a similarity we have with the plant world, for just as plants reach toward the Sun's light, its etheric forces, we strive to reach up toward the Love-bearing Beings of light and warmth—the First and Second Hierarchies—who shine toward us out of golden light. They draw us up into their sphere. In our morality, in our human virtues, we join them in the heights. As Rudolf Steiner describes in his St. John's lecture, 10/12/23 we may feel, as the painting's colors express, our inner will virtues streaming upward to weave rose-red in the gold of cosmic intelligence.

The radiant beauty of the world
Compels my inmost soul to free
God-given powers of my nature
That they may soar into the cosmos,
To take wing from my self,
And trustingly to seek myself
In cosmic light and cosmic warmth
tr. by Ruth & Hans Pusch

The world's fair shining glory

Compels me to release

From depths of soul to cosmic flight

My own life's God-inspired forces;

To leave myself behind

And trustingly to seek myself

In cosmic light and cosmic warmth.

tr. by Brigitte Knaack.

Going out beyond our ordinary self into cosmic expanses can feel like a New Birth that we are striving toward. This awareness is brought about even more now since sensing in Verse 10 our being 'touched by a Godly Being'. This is a time to 'change our thinking' as John the Baptist strongly preached. As we know of St. John's baptizing with water and of the Christ's baptizing with fire and the Spirit, we may experience this season's awakening like a personal "baptism".

As long ago, at midsummer, folk felt their spiritual life was intimately bound up with relating to the spiritual beings of the heavens and to the nature beings of the Earth Soul, it is possible for us, too, to reach out beyond ourselves especially during St. John's Tide.

Of all the solstice and equinox festivals, each like a gateway into the spiritual world, the summer solstice, with Earth's great out breathing, was always seen as a uniting of the Earth Soul with its Spirit in the sphere of the great Sun. It was a time of "enlightenment" for the ancients; that is, in union with cosmic heights they felt they could "receive the Light," could encounter their higher I.

Increasingly this union today of the human I, filled by the impulse of Christ, has potential to awaken us to a new sense of self and purpose, not determined by external factors, but out of ourselves inwardly. In free union with these spirit heights in summer, it is for us to absorb a sense of brotherhood, a moral impulse ever more into ourselves.

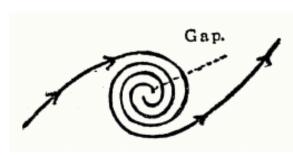

In the true I, as we may experience with the Christ, the I is universal. In this sense, we can find It in each other. In recognition of this truth and following St. John's admonition to us to "re-think", we can truly change our thinking, we can set ourselves free to develop new social forms that may with the guardianship of the higher hierarchies, mature in cosmic light and cosmic warmth.

To recognize a holiness within everything we experience may it be our desire this St. John's Tide.

Matthew 3: 1-2 KJV. John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea, saying, "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

("repent" meaning to change your thinking, or in Greek, metanoia—sometimes thought of as turning toward the light).

Within the spirals of the zodiacal sign for Cancer at this St. John's tide, there is a gap—or a leap as Carl Kovacs in his The Leap, reports that Rudolf Steiner called it in Ch. 11 of his The Gospel of St. Matthew. "He (Rudolf Steiner) pointed out a law which rules all evolutionary processes; a law which makes it necessary that there is a gap, a nothing between the impulse that is coming to an end and the new impulse that is beginning. Over this gap the soul must 'leap' to live with the new impulse."

Rudolf Steiner says we see this law exemplified when the physical sun passes through the constellation of Cancer, reaches its zenith, hesitates, as in solstice meaning sun stands, before it then begins to descend. Similarly, "when the aspirant for Initiation first makes the ascent into the spiritual world, and then having acquired knowledge of its forces, hesitates a bit before bringing these forces down to be turned to the service of humanity."

Midsummer is a time when, under the gaze of the Archangel Uriel, the spiritual world looks with special closeness at our human actions and motivations. For us too, it is a good time to look closely at what we humans are doing in the world —mindful of the wisdom of "rethinking" and of meditating the reason for the "gap".

Brotherhood in all aspects of our lives, at this season may it awaken, may it increase.

John the Baptist is also celebrated at this time of year, June 24.

To make more acquainted with him, here next is what I sent to friends who asked about him.

Dear Friends, Yes, getting to know the importance of John the Baptist, recognized at the summer solstice, June 24, is important!

You might start with reading the Gospels—all four have accounts of him, but especially look at Luke 1: 11-25, 41, 57-63 and 76-80; and Luke 3: 1-1. But the John Gospel Prologue actually tells of John the Baptist who would baptize Jesus for the Christ to come to earthly incarnation: John 1: 6-37 and 3: 23-36. There at 3:30 you read the great announcement, "He must increase, but I must decrease." And this we understand to mean that the past, living by laws, must decrease and love in Christ must increase, and as the physical sun now begins to lower in the sky, so shall the love in our hearts radiate out more and more and more in the months to come.

It is vital, also, to know that John the Baptist's previous incarnation was Elijah, the greatest of the Hebrew prophets, and before that all the way back to Adam!!! This explains what happened when Mary, newly pregnant with the Nathan Jesus soul (who had been Adam Kadmon, the "brother" soul of Adam long before in the primeval spiritual world) visited her cousin Elizabeth.

When Mary visited her cousin, Elizabeth, who was carrying the baby to become John the Baptist, already 6 months in the womb and had not moved, with the approach of his "brother soul" in Mary, the baby was able to "quicken in Elizabeth's womb" and moved at last. It is Rudolf Steiner who explains the background to what the Bible tells.

John the Baptist, you know was called that because he baptized people—dunking them in the river Jordan until they could have an out of body experience of the spiritual world, and then could understand that they need to change their rigid, stuck way of thinking, and be prepared for the imminent coming of the Messiah, as long prophesized by Hebrew prophets. Translated usually as "Repent", the Greek word metanoia actually means change your thinking, your perspective on what you thought you knew or were told to believe.

So each year now at St. John's Tide, we are reminded of the need to "move our thinking"! out of prejudices and harmful traditions, and what we're told by anyone who may have an "agenda" that serves only their own interests, not humanity's.

Celebrated on January 6, and as prophesized by the great Isaiah, John would baptize Jesus so that the I AM of Christ could come into him. Some people thought they heard thunder but it was the words of the Father, saying. "This is my beloved Son in whom Myself is manifested as Self!" This is Steiner's correction of the typical Bible words... "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." What a difference! And explains how Christ Jesus could say to his disciples: I and the Father are One, and through Me is access to the Father.

Just 6 months after the Jesus baptism, John the Baptist was beheaded by King Herod at the behest of his wicked Queen. From then on, he "over shown" or "illuminated" John, writer of the Gospel. His beheading is a symbol for "let go of the past so that the new can become". This is symbolized in the sign of Cancer that shows an incoming and outgoing spiral with a "gap" or "leap" between!!! It is similar to how childhood diseases enable children to make a "leap in development" after having measles, chicken pox, etc. You can read of this in the attached beautiful account by Carl Kovacs.

Later incarnations of John, also short-lived, are Raphael, great artist of the most beautiful madonnas and child. Then, also Novalis, great, mystical poet and novelist of the late 1790's in Germany.

I hope this will give you a start now for exploring further!

Love to you and all the family!

Eloise